BENEDE-MEETING BRUGGE

OTC Belgium, Netherlands and AIOD Deutschland e. V.

Dear Colleagues,

The average life expectancy of our population is increasing, which means our patients are also getting older. As osteoporosis sets in with age, the skeleton loses its stability and fractures become extremely difficult to avoid.

At the same time, the chances of comorbidity also increase, which can hamper the treatment of fractures considerably.

Very good progress has already been made towards tackling these issues more successfully. The fact that they are the subject of several major research projects is certainly not insignificant. There are work groups throughout the world, who are focusing on the causes of these problems, because these are not diseases that affect one country or nation in particular.

They transcend the borders of specific countries and continents and so it makes sense to exchange information internationally.

As Country Chapters of OTC Foundation, three neighbouring countries in Central Europe have joined forces and organised a conference on age-related trauma.

Personal experiences of various kinds will be shared to give more information on key issues. These short talks are intended to encourage you to share your experiences as well and to discuss them with others. In particular, discussing difficult everyday situations will help people to deal more effectively with the specific problems which occur as a result of age-related trauma. We look forward to a conference with lively discussion, which we can all learn from.
